

Sink Collection

It was in 1967 that CM was founded by Benito Cavalli and Francesco Marenda. From the very beginning the business specialized in metal work and soon started producing the versatile selection of stainless steel sinks and worktops that they are so well known for in today's market. A leading name in its chosen sector, CM works with many of the world's most prestigious kitchen producers, supplying them with sinks in a wide range of models and finishes, in addition CM supply specially designed stainless steel worktops.

By interpreting Italian style and design standards and turning them into high quality stainless steel products that are reliable and made with attention to detail and modern design concepts.

All CM sinks are manufactured using European 18/10 stainless steel. Stainless steel has always been used on account of undisputed durability, functionality and practicality. CM's research has optimised these features and their sinks are constantly increasing in popularity because they are made of the highest quality stainless steel.

Pure Steel

18/10 Stainless Steel offers self protection against rust and time!

18/10 stainless steel is corrosion resistant, which staves off rust. Furthermore, if the surface is scratched or damaged in any way, the oxide film heals up instantly on contact with oxygen, thus preventing corrosion.

This enables CM sinks to retain their long-lasting sparkle.

More beautiful to look at, easier to clean!

Stainless steel guarantees optimum hygiene. 18/10 Stainless steel is an alloy that blends the mechanical properties of steel with the typical anti-corrosion properties of the noble metals.

CM sink require minimum maintenance and time dedicated to retain their sparkle and beauty. Acid or vinegar-based neutral detergents are recommended for cleaning. After use, your sink should be dried with a cotton cloth in order to prevent any build up of deposits and fading. Should this not work, simply clean your sink using a cloth dampened with denaturated alcohol.

Satin-finish sink should be washed and dried in the direction of the finishing. Do not leave wet sponges, salt, corrosive substances, hot or ferrous objects on the sinks for long periods of time.

Streaks and scratches may be caused if the sink is not used properly. For instance do not use the sink as a cutting surface.

A finish that sparkles!

You can choose from a variety of sink finishes for your CM sink.

All sinks are available with the standard Satin finishing while a selection of models are also available in Micro Decor finish
